

Warblood Aasimar (3.5 Race)

+2 STR, +2 WIS, -2 DEX, -2 CHA.

Warblood Aasimon are born from an union between a War Archangel and a mortal humanoid. Always feeling slightly out of place in the material world, they strive to always better themselves, carrying the knowledge of hundreds of years of fighting demonic forces deep within their being.

Warblood Aasimon are usually physically tall, muscular and robust. They tend to look more like their mortal parent's side with their traits, with a natural air of eerie strength emanating from them. They do not possess the beauty and charisma of a "regular" aasimar, but they do usually have clear, fair skin, silky hair and piercing eyes.

With a keen sense of battle logistics and strong arms, Warblooded aasimon always strive to better themselves. They see every challenge as an opportunity for something bigger.

They tend to be fiercely loyal, with strong wills and vast knowledge of the world surrounding them.
